

Step Out of Line!

The Essential Stimulus Package for Personal Leadership in the Age Of Change!

With Drew Ginn, OAM and Robert Rabbin

Produced by InnoFuture Micro Productions

Business Innovators! Why You Need to Step out of Line.

We live in times of exponential change — bigger, faster, and more unrelenting than ever before in human history. Nothing is stable or certain.

How do we thrive in this environment? How do we lead ourselves, our companies, and our communities to high performance, practical results, and personal fulfilment? What do we need to know? How can we re-invent ourselves for personal and organizational success?

What is the secret? Working harder, learning someone else's best practices, and acquiring more 'tools' is not! Most people already have enough skill and knowledge; in fact, they are over-trained and depend on their competence at the expense of their capacity: independent thinking, intuition, creative response, courage, initiative, self-motivation. According to multiple Olympic gold medalist 'Oarsome Foursome' Drew Ginn and authentic communication pioneer Robert Rabbin, we need to expand our personal perspectives and innate capacities. We need to become more present, 360° aware, fearless, creative, resilient, and courageous. We need to connect and communicate!

Come along to this explosive, improvisational, game-changing adventure in self-discovery and learn how to ride the waves of change with confidence. You won't learn this in a business school! Experience it!
